Pay Cuts Proposed in Ontario Budget 2014 and related amendments to the Education Act will see approximately 8,500 Ontario public elementary teachers receive less than the average salary of $76,000 by 2015.
Workers' Support Coalition The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation (OSSTF) released a statement calling the cuts "draconian" and asking that the government rethink its plans. The province is also planning a $75 million dollar cut to public education next year. The government says the cuts will be phased in over three years so that no class will be affected by the funding cut for longer than one year. High school teachers will also be affected by the budget changes but their situation is thought to be better than elementary teachers. The OSSTF estimates that roughly one in four elementary teachers will be laid off. The government says it will give each teacher the equivalent of a 1.3 per cent pay cut, reducing the average salary to $76,000.// Copyright (c) 2014 AlphaSierraPapa for
